Standard Mechanical Control includes pneumatic height adjustment, tilt lock and adjustable tilt tension.

Suffix "L" adds infinite tilt-lock positions and forward-tilt function with selectable lock-out.

Standard Arms adjust vertically over a three inch range.

Suffix "A" adds a three inch per arm range of horizontal arm adjustment (width).

VIII. Damaged Shipment and Shortages: Our factory takes utmost care in the packaging and shipping of the products we produce. Triune will accept no responsibility for damages or shortages caused by a freight carrier or delivering agent. All claims for shortages or damages MUST be filed by the recipient (our customer). Therefore it is imperative that shipments be checked carefully and any damages or shortages be noted on the bill presented by the delivering agent.

1. If merchandise is damaged in transit, or shortages exist, be sure to note the extent of damage or items short on the bill presented by the transportation company and notify the carrier in writing by filing a claim. Claims should be filed within ten (10) days of delivery. Merchandise must be retained in the original packaging and carton. This procedure must be followed in order for the carrier to establish liability for damage.

2. If the shipment is received in apparent good condition but upon opening the merchandise is damaged, immediately call for an inspection with the delivering carrier to examine the shipment. Any claim for concealed damage must be filed with the transportation company within (10) days of delivery date. All packaging materials and the original carton must be retained for inspection by the transportation company. We suggest that all shipments be unpacked and inspected upon arrival at destination. This will protect you in the event a claim has to be filed. IMPORTANT NOTE: The consignee is the only party able to file a claim for the merchandise received and damaged in shipment. It is very important to examine the shipment and note any problems directly on the carrier's bill of lading. If the consignee gives the carrier a signed clear receipt for merchandise received, all further responsibility by the carrier is relieved.

IX. Returned Merchandise: If you feel you have a problem and desire to return merchandise to the factory, please contact our office. If the factory finds the reason for the return to be within our policies, we will institute one or more of the following:

 - b. All returned merchandise must be properly packed and returned in the original carton.
